DESCRIPTION

The king of white wines with a worldwide reputation. "Der" German classic, a descendant of the Rhenish wild grape. He places high demands on the location, is frost resistant, drives early and matures on the floor for a very long time. In the Ortenau he is also called "Klingelberger", after a parcel on Durbacher Schlossberg, which was planted in 1776 for the first time sorted with Riesling sticks from Durlach. It is harvested as the last variety in autumn. His wines are appreciated for their sparkling tartaric acid and slightly mineral notes. In the fragrance, his "nose", you can experience fruity aromas such as yellow fruits, apples, and even exotic fruits. High storage potential. At Durlacher Turmberg the main grape variety.
